

A floor plan diagram of a rectangular room. The room is filled with a light blue color and is outlined by a thick red border. The room is situated within a larger grey-shaded area representing the building's structure. To the right of the room, there is a semi-circular protrusion, possibly a bay window or a small porch. The text 'ZONE 0.1_S' is written in large red letters at the top of the room. In the center of the room, the text 'S.051 SWITCH' and '19 m²' are written in black.
